URGES COURTING DONE BY WOMEN

Chicago Woman Doctor Says
Rule of Wild Animals
Best

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Women, not men, should be the sex "aggressor." She should choose the man and the circumstances and be ruler of situation. Dr. Bertha Van Hooser so told a birth control conference Sunday.

"We should follow the example of animals," said Dr. Van Hooser. "Among animals the female is the seeker, not the sought. We would be a great deal nearer solution of the problem if the human family acted in that way."

JOIN IN KILLING WOLVES.

Petrograd, Feb. 17.—A wolf hunt, in which both Russian and German soldiers joined, is described in correspondence from the Polish front.

Parties of Russian and German scouts met recently and were hotly engaged in a skirmish when a large pack of wolves dashed upon the scene and attacked the wounded. Hostilities were at once suspended and Germans and Russians instinctively attacked the pack, killing about fifty of the wolves. After the hunt the soldiers separated, each party returning unmolested to its own trenches.

Along some sections of this front hungry wolves have been particularly bold this winter, constituting a real danger to outposts of both armies and repeatedly the combatants have had to send out hunting parties against the common enemy.

While at this sort of work sniping is suspended by a sort of tacit agreement among opposing forces.

Dumb Chills and Fever.

Douglasville, Tex.—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Miss Edna Ruthford, of Douglasville, "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fevers and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui. Now I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success. As a tonic there is nothing in the drug store like it. As a remedy for women's ills, it has no equal. These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.
